TO-DAY'S TRAIN.

One car hardware for Ross Bros., one car oil for W. J. Richardson, one car nomenclature for various parties.

LOCAL.

TRAIN 45 minutes late leaving Calgary.

C. W. SUTTER left on Tuesday's train for Lacombe on a business trip.

W. TOOLE, C. P. R. land agent, came up on Monday's train and left again on Tuesday morning.

A. L. STURTON, the eloquent Calgary lawyer, has been appointed crown prosecutor vice C. C. McCaul, Q. C.

REV. J. B. TAYLOR left on Tuesday's train for Toronto where he will complete his studies at Victoria college.

H. STIGLER returned from the coast on Monday's train. He enjoyed his trip thoroughly and is much impressed with what he saw of B. C.

This programme of races in connection with Fort Saskatchewan fall fair on October 3d, is out. There are nine events and the prizes offered are sufficiently good to induce entries of good horses.

A GLANCE at our advertising columns will show that Edmonton merchants are fully abreast of the times. One advertiser offers to take American currency at higher rates than the Banks, while another will take it at its par value.

MISS YOUNG, daughter of Bishop Young, of Athabasca, arrived on Monday's train with her father. She has just left Toronto where she has been completing her collegiate course, after having spent some time in England at college.

MRS. McDONALD, of Edmonton, Superintendent of the W. C. T. U. work for the Territories, will visit Macleod on Saturday, 12th, inst. A meeting of the Union will be held on the afternoon of that day, at 4 p. m., in the Methodist church, to which all members are invited, also any who may wish to join or wish to understand the aims and object of the work. At this meeting arrangements will be made for a public meeting some time during the following week. —Macleod Gazette.

THERE was some excitement on Main street last Tuesday morning when a young man who showed evidences of having imbibed too freely was observed endeavoring to induce Macleod Galbraith to give him the luxury of a fight. He struck at Galbraith, who pushed him off the sidewalk. The young fellow followed Galbraith into a store, but was turned out by the proprietor. The constable arrived in time to arrest the fighter, and Mayor Wilson investigated the matter and finding both parties somewhat to blame, let the inebriated one go with a caution "not to do it again."

T. HEINZ and F. LEONHARDT arrived on Monday's train from Yankton, South Dakota. They came as a delegation from 25 farmers there who with their families number about 100 people. They left on Tuesday for Stony Plain and are visiting Beaver Hills and other settlements before leaving. They have to report on their return as to whether this section is likely to prove a more acceptable locality for their friends than South Dakota. If their report is favorable a number of settlers will come in next spring, many of whom are well off and will bring in sufficient means to make a good start, while a few others will come who have met with such hardships over the line that they have been unable to place themselves in a position to bring much capital away with them.

BISHOP REEVE, of Mackenzie river, came in on Monday's train and left for the Landing on Tuesday afternoon. The Western Churchman, a new church weekly, published at Winnipeg, in its first number gives the following sketch of his lordship's career: "The Right Rev. Wm. Day Reeve, Lord Bishop of Mackenzie River, received his training for the ministry at the Church Missionary College, Kingston, London. He was ordained deacon in 1865 by the archbishop of Rupert's Land. In 1869 he became C. M. S. missionary at Fort Simpson, Mackenzie River, where he remained for ten years, receiving his priesthood in 1874 at the hands of the Lord Bishop of Athabasca. From 1879 to 1889 he has been in charge of St. Paul's mission, Fort Chipewyan, during a part of which time he acted as chaplain to his Diocese. From 1889 to 1891 he resided in England, but returned in the latter year as Bishop of Mackenzie River. He was consecrated in Holy Trinity church, Winnipeg, on 30th November, 1891, by the Metropolitan of Rupert's Land, and the Bishops of Qu'Appelle, Saskatchewan, North Dakota, and the assistant Bishop of Minnesota. St. John's college, Manitoba, gave him the honorary degree of D. D. in 1891."

J. McDONALD is making a large soft water tank for the Methodist parsonage.

EGGS 10c. per dozen; butter 10c. per pound; potatoes 12c. to 15c. per bushel; hay $2 to $3 per ton.

R. LINDOY, of Fort Saskatchewan, returned on Monday's train from Manitoba where he has been for the past few weeks.

ALMOST the first question asked by Li-Hung Chang of everyone with whom he converses is "How old are you?" He made an exception in the case of Mrs. Kirkpatrick, wife of the lieutenant-governor of Ontario.

PRAIRIE chickens shooting commenced on Tuesday last, but birds are scarce. One or two parties who have been out came back with very small bags. It is reported that along the trail between here and the Landing they are plentiful.

MISS WEAVER came up with Bishop Young on Monday's train from Toronto and will proceed to Wabiskow to assist her brother, Rev. Mr. Weaver, in his work at the English church mission there. She left for her post on Tuesday afternoon.

THE mayor's letter addressed to the town clerk, in reply to the protesting councillors is a lengthy document which goes fully into the amounts paid to previous delegations. It will be considered by the council at their regular meeting next Tuesday evening.

THE Phoenix insurance company of Hartford, for which J. McDonald is agent here, advises him that that company has always paid its Canadian losses in Canadian funds and will continue to do so whatever the results of the approaching presidential election may be.

W. CLARK, of Horse Hills, brought into Fraser's grist mill yesterday ten bushels of No. 1 hard wheat which is the finest sample he has seen in the mill this year. The crop at Horse Hills is all harvested, and wheat of exceptionally good quality is expected to yield about 15 to 18 bushels to the acre.

A SPECIAL meeting of the town council was held on Tuesday evening for the purpose of receiving communications from G. R. E. Kirkpatrick, St. Geo. Jellet and Mayor Wilson. The two former asking leave of absence were granted. The mayor's letter re expenses to delegate to Ottawa, was laid on the table till next regular meeting of the council.

THE Toronto Globe has spoken very flatteringly of Mr. Oliver after each of his speeches in the House and in a general survey and estimate of the ability of the members of the new House of Commons recently it stated that the debating ability of the members on the government side without including the ministers was quite equal to that of all the opposition, leaders included. In giving a list of a few of the ablest debaters on the government side Mr. Oliver's name is included in the first twenty.

THE Department of the Interior have received an application from a lady in Scotland who is desirous of obtaining a position in Canada as a housekeeper, preferably where there are children, whose mother is delicate, or in a widow's family. In her letter she says, "Not that I object to working housekeeper, but that I would like to feel one of the family I work for, and to have several servants under me." Not that I might have less to do, but that I might have more congenial associates." Inquiries have been made through the agents of the department on the spot, and most favorable reports have been received with regard to this lady. Any one desiring to enter into communication with her should address the Dominion Lands Agent at Winnipeg.

BISHOP YOUNG, of Athabasca, arrived on Monday's train and left on Tuesday with Bishop Reeve for the Landing. The following sketch of the Bishop's life is taken from the Western Churchman. "The Right Rev. Richard Young, Lord Bishop of Athabasca, was educated at Clare college, Cambridge, where he took the degree of B. A. in 1868. He was ordained deacon in the same year, and priest a year after by the Lord Bishop of Worcester. For the first two years of his ministry he was curate of Halesowen. In 1869 he became vicar of Fulstow, where he remained till 1872. From 1872 to 1875 he was association secretary of the C. M. S. for West Yorkshire. In the latter year he gave up that post and came to Manitoba, where he was incumbent of St. Andrew's for the next ten years. Having been chosen Bishop of Athabasca he was consecrated in St. John's cathedral, Winnipeg, on October 18th, 1884, by the Metropolitan of Rupert's Land, who was assisted by the Bishops of Saskatchewan and Qu'Appelle. His Lordship received the honorary degree of D. D. from the Manitoba university in the year 1884; and along with the primates and others he received the Hon. D. C. L. degree from Trinity college, Toronto, when the first general synod met in that city in 1893."

J. EDMONTON returned the other day from Fort Smith and leaves next Monday for Fort McMurray. He will take his family with him and will settle permanently about 60 miles above Fort McMurray. He brings in further complaints of poisoning. He says he met several parties between here and Fort McMurray on his trip in, all carrying strychnine and since his arrival in town he has been asked to take some of that poison to a party north, but he refused to do so. The poison is laid principally between Pelican Rapids and Fort McMurray. Mr. Edmonton is anxious for his own sake and the Indians, that this practice of laying poison should be stopped. He takes with him one train dog for which he gave three horses, and another dog worth $35 and he does not want these valuable and useful animals poisoned. The Indians are loud in their murmurs against the unprincipled men who lay the poison, and set dogs in the north, as the loss of their dogs by poison and the driving out of their game by fire, brings them face to face with starvation. These Indians are self-supporting and are alarmed at the prospect of losing their dogs and livelihood and are talking seriously of taking action in their own way, against the whites who are responsible for the cruel practices of laying poison and starting fires, and unless these things are prevented serious trouble may arise with the Indians.

W. STUTE, representative of Mackenzie & Co., is in town. He reports trade as being somewhat quiet in his line in this district.

A MEETING of the executive of the Edmonton District Sunday school association will be held in the Baptist church to-morrow evening at 7.30.

The dramatic club play at Fort Saskatchewan to-night and to-morrow night and at South Edmonton next Monday night. They leave for their tour on Tuesday.

P. L. McNAMARA left by last Friday's train for Eganville, Ont., where he will spend a holiday for a month and will probably return accompanied by a young lady of that township for a life partner.

THE services in the Methodist church next Sunday will be very special in character. The morning sermon will be on the subject of "Peace," and the evening on "Thanksgiving for Harvest." The Rev. J. Dyke will conduct both services.

It will be observed from our dispatches today that the Hudson's Bay and Pacific railway bill has passed the committee stage. This is the British Pacific railway bill and provides for the railway coming through Edmonton. Mr. Oliver had charge of the bill in the house.

RANDALL'S CONCERT.

Last night in Robertson Hall a good audience assembled on the occasion of the benefit concert which had been advertised by A. G. Randall for a couple of weeks previously. The first item on the programme was a selection of Edinburgh waltzes by the union band, which put the audience in good humor for receiving the following numbers. Messrs. Purches (violin) and Cann (piano) were in their usual good form in their rendering of a study by Kucken. Miss Cookson sang Purcell's "Nymphs and Shepherds," which was evidently well appreciated by the audience. A. McCauley and Miss McCauley played a "Sonata in D" as a duet on the pianoforte. The next item was a song "Kings of the Road," by A. G. Randall. W. McAdam's recitation of "The Dream of Eugene Aram" proved him an accomplished elocutionist. Miss Voyer sang "Rose, Souvenir Toi," in French and was encored. In response she sang another French song. Purches, Sprenger, (violin) W. G. Plowright, (cello); and E. J. Cann (piano) was also encored, but they did not respond. This ended the first part of the programme. Miss Cookson's song "Nymphs and Shepherds," and A. G. Randall's song, "Kings of the Road," were encored. The second part of the programme was opened with a selection by the union band, followed by a song "Alice where art thou," sung by W. McAdam in stead of R. McIntyre who was absent. The selection from Bennett played on the guitar by W. G. Plowright, mandolins, Messrs. Sprenger and Fittness were encored, and they responded with another selection which was also loudly applauded. Messrs. Amelia Voyer's French song, "Si vous m'aimez," was sweetly sung and well received. E. J. Cann's piano solo from Paderewski was good and evidently appreciated. "Herrings are in the Bay," was A. G. Randall's second song, and an instrumental quartette by Messrs. Purches and Sprenger (violin); cello, W. G. Plowright; piano, E. J. Cann followed by a vocal duet, "Soft fell the dew," by Messrs. Bookson and Rogers, which was encored. The singing of the national anthem closed a concert which was certainly most successful in having brought together the cream of the musical talent of the town, and the efforts of the promoters of the concert deserve fullest credit for the high class entertainment they provided, which was evidently appreciated as shown by the number of encors. J. W. Kearny was manager and to him the success of the event is largely due. A dance programme had been arranged to follow the concert, but as only a few remained dancing was not prolonged.

OLIVER'S MAIDEN SPEECH.

From Hansard: Mr. Oliver. Mr. Speaker, it was certainly contrary to any intention on my part to undertake the onerous duty of addressing the House on this occasion, and I would not do so were it not for the fact that the hon. gentleman from West Assiniboia (Mr. Davin) has taken upon himself to speak on behalf of the Northwest Territories; has taken upon himself so much on the basis of so little; has taken the whole Territories within his great grasp, and has attempted to speak for those Territories. When he has spoken contrary to what I know to be the facts, it is necessary, in my own justification merely, that I should take up the time of the House for a few minutes (and it will be but a few minutes) in order to justify my own position in the House, and to set right the people of the Territories before the people of the rest of Canada in this matter.

By way of introduction, I may say that although a new member of this House, while the hon. gentleman (Mr. Davin) is an old member, I may still claim some right to represent the ideas of the people of the Northwest. I have the honor to represent a constituency which, at the general elections of 1891 returned a conservative candidate by opposition to the late government, by a majority of something like 800 votes. The hon. gentleman (Mr. Davin) who has just spoken, represents a constituency in which he has been declared elected not even by a majority of one. He is here on behalf of the smallest majority that I suppose has ever been recorded in the Dominion of Canada, namely, the casting vote of the returning officer, an official appointed by the late government. If it could be possible to have a representative in this House who has less right to speak on behalf of the people of the Northwest, I cannot conceive of him. Mr. Speaker, I will tell the hon. gentleman (Mr. Davin), and I will tell the House, that there is no feeling of disappointment in the constituency that I represent, at any rate—and it contains a great many more votes than the constituency of the hon. gentleman (Mr. Davin) represents—There is no feeling of disappointment at the address which has been delivered from the throne. The election which was carried in my constituency for the government, was not carried by any promises made by the leader of this government in regard to a reduction of the duty on agricultural implements. I do not know what it may have been in the constituency of the hon. gentleman, or in other constituencies in the Territories, for I can only presume to speak for the constituency which I represent; but I say that my constituency was carried not so much on the merits of the policy that was laid down by the leader of the present government, as on the demerits of the administration of the late government during the many years that it has governed that western country. It was a case of "turn the rascals out." It was a case in which the people of the Northwest were put upon the defensive. They were compelled to fight, and they did their little share towards turning those gentlemen out of office. That was the principle upon which they voted in the last elections. I will say, further, that the people of the Northwest—at least that section of them that I claim to represent—are sensible people, and they are not disappointed at the leader of this government not doing what, in the first place, it would be unreasonable to expect of him, and what, in the second place, would be an impossibility. They do not expect a revision of the tariff at a moment's notice. But they do expect a revision of the tariff, and they expect a thorough revision. They expect a revision of the tariff that will be in their interest, and I have every confidence they will get that revision from the present government, and that they will get it in good time. Now, the hon. gentleman (Mr. Davin) has worked himself into a passion about the suffering that a people of the Northwest will endure because the duty on agricultural implements is not removed at this session. I do not know that there is a demand, in my constituency, at any rate, to absolutely remove the duty on agricultural implements. There may or may not be, but, at all events, we look for a substantial reduction in all the duties that prejudicially affect us. I will further point this out. Sir, the agricultural season in that country is very nearly over, the purchase of farm machinery for the season has been made, and the reduction of the duty which will take effect during the coming winter will be just as beneficial to the people of the Northwest as if it were made now. I merely make that statement in order that the House may be thoroughly aware of the deep insight and the thorough knowledge which the hon. gentleman (Mr. Davin) has of the agricultural interests of the Northwest. Now, having trespassed so much on the time of the House. I will merely say another word. It was not merely the question of the duty on agricultural implements which caused the change of feeling in the district of Alberta, amounting to something over 2,000 votes, comparing the two elections of 1891 and 1896. You cannot imagine that so small a cause would produce such a very considerable difference. There are other gyves and fetters binding down the settlers in the Northwest, besides the matter of the tariff. There is the land policy of the late government, and there is the railway policy of the late government, and I can tell the hon. gentleman (Mr. Davin) that these questions affect us in our part of the country, at any rate, even more than do the provisions of the tariff. And although we were lying wounded by the roadside, and although we were bound and tied, we obtained no relief from the late administration and it was because we could see no prospect of any relief from that government—it was for these reasons even more than because of our objection to the tariff that we voted against conservative rule. We look to the new government with just as much confidence in these particulars, and we look to them for relief in the matter of the tariff. We look for relief for the Northwest in all matters that shall be for the benefit of the Northwest. We look for a policy which shall be in the interests of the people of the Northwest and not a policy that shall be, as it has been, in the interests of monopolies there. The Northwest for the people and not for the monopolies—that is the policy we voted for. The hon. gentleman (Mr. Davin) has alluded to the disappointment that has taken hold of every person in the Northwest, except the strongest party men. Well, I can tell him that I am not a strong party man, and he knows it. I can tell him that I am not bound to support the leader of the present government, unless his policy is in the interests of the Northwest. I can assure him, repeating what I said before, that the people of the Northwest, being reasonable people, are willing to give the new government a reasonable time to bring forward necessary reforms, and that our confidence in that government is not shaken because they have shown good and sound judgment at the present time by refusing to act hastily for the purpose of making a little political capital. They are above that kind of business, and I for one, as a citizen of Canada, am proud of them that they are. Now, the hon. member alluded, I think to an unnecessary extent, as I think it also those speakers who proceeded him on that side of the House, to the disappointed ambition of members on this side. They spoke of how this, that and the other member had worked hard in the interest of the party, and had not received any reward. These gentlemen are evidently measuring other people's corn in their half bushel. The gentlemen whose ideas of the requirements of government rise no higher than the filling of places are no men to rule this country. They have ruled it too long, as is evident from this very position they take in regard to that matter. If they know nothing of government except the holding of office, then the less they know of government the better for this country, and thank goodness that they know so little of it now.

In regard to the last matter which the hon. member spoke of, the school question, I certainly agree with him as to the undesirability of arousing racial and religious prejudices. I do not know how long the hon. member will hold that position. I do not know whether, if a vote were taken on the matter at the present time, he would be found in his usual position of speaking one way and voting the other; but I really fear that something like that might occur, for certainly what he has said here to-night does not accord with the circumstances connected with his own election campaign. As a matter of fact, every effort was made on behalf of the hon. gentleman, in the line of religious and race prejudices; and while we must, of course, give all credit to the clerk of the court who did the final act of electing the hon. gentleman, at the same time, there is no doubt—and he dare not deny it—that great credit is due to the gentlemen who did arouse, and who were imported into the constituency specially to arouse, race and religious prejudices on his behalf. We may say that it is, in the first place, to the action of that official, in the next place to the religious campaigners, and, in the third place, to the horde of government officials holding places in his constituency, that the hon. gentleman owes his position in this House, and his claim to speak on behalf of the people of the Northwest.

THE NORTH WEST GRANT.

Whether it be due to the enthusiasm with which Mr. Frank Oliver always seems able to present a subject, or to the fact that the member for Alberta had power to impart more information at Ottawa on the question of the Dominion grant to Northwest assembly than had before been given in that quarter, there is one thing certain, viz., that the eastern newspapers are devoting space to, and evincing intelligence respecting the matter that has not before been evident. It is seemingly recognized now on all sides that the Territories have been treated shabbily. A new district struggling in its immensity, and upon the successful development of which depends entirely the future of the Canadian nation, is a problem which instinct would teach true statesmen should be treated with generosity. It is certainly inverted generosity which gives only half of what the rightful demand amounts to when measured by "cold justice." Up on the basis on which the grown-up provinces are treated; there is due to the assembly nearly half a million dollars per annum. The assembly has been getting very little more than half the sum.—Regina Leader.

THE DAUPHIN ROAD.

The work on the Lake Manitoba Railway and Canal company's road is being pushed forward with great rapidity, says the Gladstone Age. The builders, Messrs. Mann & McKenzie are bringing in fresh supplies of men and horses by nearly every train. On Saturday a car load of horses were brought up, and about a hundred men were brought in to work on the track-laying gangs. There are now at work grading on the line eight contractors, each having a large gang of men and a great number of teams. McArthur's gang, which is farthest to the Northwest, is grading about seventy miles from Gladstone on the borders of the Dauphin district. The bridge building gang have just completed the bridge over the Grass River and have now moved about eight miles further north. The track layers are beyond the Jumping Deer river and trains are running constantly from Gladstone to the end of the line with supplies. Wheat is being shipped off the new line through to Fort William, and in less than two months time the heart of the pioneers of Dauphin will be gladdened by the sound of a whistle and the sight of a locomotive running through their fertile district and into their already prosperous town.

THE PARLIAMENTARY BAR.

Regina Standard: The abolition of the House of Commons bar is an important event of the new regime. But it is only one step in the right direction. It appears that each branch of Canada's parliament has had its tipping den, and that of the senate is still retained. Will the conservative senators who are vastly in the majority in that body, rise to the occasion and follow the example of the popular branch? There should be no sham in this matter. Let not the advocates of reform rest until liquor has been totally banished from parliamentary precincts. It seems that the action already taken by the internal economy committee of the Commons does not itself amount to very much. The Toronto World speaking of it is says:

"Our own Samuel Barnett, who runs the restaurant both in the senate and commons understands to-day's orders to mean that no person can go to the bar for a drink, but he must seat himself, at one of the tables in adjacent rooms and acting on this theory drinks are still being dispensed beneath the commons chambers. Should the committee decide to abolish the sale of intoxicating liquors there will be a good many thirsty commonsers who will pay frequent visits to see the 'corner stone' on the senate side."

The condition of affairs revealed in the foregoing paragraph is one that cannot be tolerated. It is little short of national disgrace, and now is the time to end it. Theoretical temperance has had its day. What is now wanted is practical action. If the evil does not disappear voluntarily or with small persuasion, let it be thoroughly discussed in both commons and senate, and votes taken so that the people may see where their representatives stand in reference to it.

GENERAL NEWS.

The final payment of ten per cent to Commercial Bank of Manitoba depositors will be paid shortly. Ninety per cent has been paid.

Brunet, M. P. for Richelieu, says he will resign his seat in the commons and run for the local legislature of Quebec at the next general election.

London, Sept. 5.—Emigration generally has declined heavily during August. The emigration to the United States decreased from 29,000 to 19,382, while emigration to Canada declined from 3,383 to 2,397. For eight months however, emigration to Canada has increased 1,000 to 17,075, while that to the United States has declined 27,000. The total exodus has declined 18,000.

Judgment upon the preliminary objections to the petition filed against the return of Mr. Boyd for Macdonald electoral district was delivered by Mr. Justice Kitchin last Saturday. His lordship decided that as the petitioner's name appeared upon the duly certified list of voters for district No. 13 used at the election, that first sufficiently proved his status, and that service of the petition and other necessary papers upon the respondent had been proved. The objections should be dismissed with costs.

Toronto, Sept. 12.—Since the division in the House of Commons the other night, the papers here have been very busy analyzing the vote, with special references to Ontario. The Globe claimed a majority of five for the government in the province and this morning's Mail says: "In the first vote given in this parliament the government had a majority of 34. The Quebec vote as L'Electeur points out, was 49 Liberals to 16 conservatives, a majority of 33. John Ross Robertson voted with the Liberals. This just saved the government from being entirely dependent upon Quebec for its majority."

Li Hung Chang's presents to Queen Victoria have just been arranged in the billiard room at Osborne. They are valued at £5,000. The Emperor of China's gifts comprised an old, white porcelain vase, adorned with red dragons, an antique bronze goblet, two antique blue-green porcelain plates, a magnificent white jade vase decorated with cyanthems, fir trees, and a rare yellow lacquer decorated with red flowers. The gifts of Li Hung Chang to Her Majesty were almost as valuable as those of the emperor. They include exquisitely embroidered satins, an enamelled bowl on a dragon stand, a massive blue and gold vase, a red porcelain fish bowl of the seventeenth century, a green porcelain flower vase and an enamelled portrait of a fairy.

Prince Albert Advocate: A detachment of mounted police is badly needed in the vicinity of Green Lake to patrol through that settlement and surrounding districts, the chief duty being to suppress the illegal barter and sale of liquors to the Indians by unscrupulous traders, several of whom are said to make a regular practice of the business. True, the police occasionally patrol these districts, but their movements are carefully watched by the law-breakers. The Hudson's Bay officers in these districts are all J. P.'s, but, if any offenders are brought up before them, they must of necessity let them go, as there is no means of carrying out sentences which they possess the power to impose. The places mentioned are from 150 to 200 miles from here. The well-known demoralizing effect of liquor on Indians is causing much annoyance to legitimate traders, and distress to the Indians themselves who will render mostly anything that they possess for the white man's "firewater," and when under its influence the lives of anyone coming in contact with them are not too safe. This is something that should be effectually stamped out, and it is one of the things our mounted police are kept for. An investigation of the matter would undoubtedly result in the suppression of this one form of crime, and perhaps bring the perpetrators to a well deserved punishment.

A Constantinian dispatch of recent date says: The orders issued to the British squadron under Admiral Seymour to rendezvous at Salonica in October, are distinctly connected with the change of British policy towards the ports, which marked the arrival of Sir Philip Currie, British ambassador in Constantinople. Sir Philip without ostentatiously declaring a more active and isolated English policy, has conveyed the impression to other European diplomats at Constantinople that henceforth the European concert will be adhered to by England only so far as it agrees with a purely English policy. There must be no more massacres of Christians nor Moslem mob rioting, nor inciting of general murder without the practical intervention by England, with or without the approval of the other powers. The game which Russian diplomacy played under Prince Lobanoff's artful hand, paralyzing all interference in the Sultan's misdoings, until the time became ripe for the utter ruin of Turkey to the aggrandizement of Russia, seems about to end. The question asked here is why has Lord Salisbury so long followed a merely tentative policy, and what caused the change to a more pronounced independent one? There is no doubt that the Queen's indignation over the Constantinian massacres had much to do with it. Her Majesty rarely interferes, but when she does the interference is effective.

GENERAL NEWS.

A Rubber manufactory has been opened in Winnipeg, by a chartered company called the Winnipeg Rubber Company, Limited.

The country councils of Ontario are petitioning parliament to amend the railway act, making railway companies responsible for damages caused by fires arising from sparks from locomotives.

The Territorial bicycle meet which was to have taken place at Medicine Hat on last Sunday, Sept. 7th, was declared off on account of the heavy rains which fell all day there. Medicine Hat people treated their visitors well and endeavored in every way to remove the feeling of disappointment.

Sifton and Martin were both to leave Winnipeg for Ottawa last Saturday. Sifton going by the C. P. R. and Martin by the Northern Pacific. Sifton took with him particulars of all recent deliberations of the Manitoba government on the school question. He is generally accepted to be the future minister of the Interior.

At Regina on Tuesday Judge Richardson sat to hear the arguments on the preliminary objections in the matter of the protest against the election of N. F. Davis for West Assiniboia. An adjournment was asked for on behalf of Mr. Davis on the ground of his absence at Ottawa, and also on account of the absence of Mr. Ford Jones, the election clerk. The judge granted an adjournment for one week, and plainly intimated that no further time would be given.

The department of agriculture and the Canadian Pacific railway were well within the mark in estimating the number of farm laborers required for the Manitoba and Territorial grain harvest. There have been no complaints received of an over supply at any point, but in some western parts of the province there is still a scarcity and farmers are wiring to Brandon for men. The crop this year according to Chief Clerk McKellar, is to be handled more expeditiously than last season.

The Toronto Mail gives the vote by provinces in the recent division in the House as follows:

Province.	Opp'n.	Minis'l
Ontario	33	38
Quebec	13	42
Nova Scotia	9	10
New Brunswick	6	5
British Columbia	2	3
Manitoba	2	3
P. E. I.	3	1
N. W. Territories	1	2
Total	69	103

The United States treasury officials are in receipt of a large number of requests asking for silver dollars of this year's coinage in exchange for silver certificates, or other lawful money. Many of these requests come from persons who seem to doubt the truth of the monthly statement, while others ask for shipments of 1896 dollars with a view to refuting statements that no silver dollars are now being coined. There is now in the treasury $10,500,399 in free silver, that is, silver which may be obtained in exchange for any lawful money, but the demand just now is so keen for 1896 dollars that it seems probable that by the beginning of October the department will be compelled to decline to pay out silver dollars except in exchange for silver certificates or treasury notes of 1890.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—W. E. Sanford & Co., Hamilton, for tunics, jackets and pantaloons had one contract with the militia department for three years, commencing July 1, 1896, two years from July next. It has been cancelled. Sanford had another contract commencing July next for two years and it has also been cancelled. H. Shorey & Co., Montreal, had two contracts the same as Sanford and they have also been cancelled. Doull & Gibson, Montreal; The Auburn Woolen Co., Peterboro; E. Boissan & Co., and Gillespie, Ainslie & Dixon, Toronto, also had contracts for militia clothing, and they have been cancelled from July, 1897. There was no authority for making these contracts.

The women of New Zealand have not very high regard for the gradual processes of time and experience in bringing about reforms. They believe that two or three progressive women gathered in convention are equal to a century or two of ordinary civilization. At a recent convention at Christchurch they have expressed a desire to abolish capital punishment, to nationalize the land, to create a system of old-age pensions, and to make judicial sentence reformatory as well as punitive. Not satisfied with so ambitious a programme, they got further in asserting the right of women to sit on juries and be elected to the legislature. Another resolution was passed that is worth setting forth in full: "In all cases where a woman elects to superintend a household and to be the mother of children, there shall be a law attaching a certain just share of her husband's earnings or income for her separate use, payable, if she desires, into her separate account."

Dr. Delorme, surgeon-in-chief of the French army, has been lecturing in Paris before the Academy of Medicine on the new steel-coated rifle bullets and their effects as projected from the modern magazine rifle, says the London Daily News. The most remarkable fact in connection with them appears to be this, that they cause very little pain to those who are struck by them. At Bourges, during the riots there, one man was wounded so badly that he afterwards suffered from paralysis, yet he did not even suspect he was shot until he saw blood stains upon his clothes. Another man who was shot through the leg described his sensation thus: "I felt a slight shock through the arm could only remember that his elbow twitched and that he involuntarily closed his fist. Dr. Delorme finds that when the bullets meet with an obstacle at a short distance, say from 100 to 50 yards, they are very apt to explode, and the pieces of metal are capable of doing serious mischief.

LOCAL.

W. H. McDermott, who has been spending some time in the mountains, left for his home at Eganville, Ont., by last Friday's train.

Mrs. W. H. Cooper gave a farewell party last night to Misses McLeod and Segars. About twenty young people, friends of these ladies were present and spent an enjoyable evening.

ISAAC COWIE, Secretary of Edmonton Board of Trade, went south Wednesday. He was looking up the trade of Kootenay in produce and devising how to supply it from his section—Kootenay Mail.

LA CIGALE.

The dramatic troupe excelled themselves on Tuesday night in their performance of La Cigale. The new members of the cast filled their several parts well, and the play went without a hitch from start to finish. Miss McLeod in her representation of La Cigale has improved her performance in some particulars, though in one or two minor parts she did not show quite as much spirit as in her previous performance. The positions which she is in for fine feeling she has improved, considerably, and her dance at the end of the first act was loudly encored. The introduction of Messrs. Sprenger and Plowright, and Miss Calvert as Tyrolean minstrels with guitars and mandolins for the dance, adds considerably to the effect. Ed. Braine, Floche (Lee) and Caracassone (McDonald) are good. F. de Journal as Marignan is better than ever. He has dropped his American innovation of "you bet" which is the only alteration he makes except that he has improved his interpretation of the part. Michu (R. W. Vaudin) is somewhat slow and lacks facial expression, but will improve later, as his performance in Betsy proved him to be a good actor. A. E. Lee as the old Marquis and F. H. Braine as the young count are perfect, and it is hard to see how they can improve their performance. Braine presents a typical young blood of the old country in admirable style. F. T. Glover as Dulcote the lawyer is also excellent, and Miss Macdonald as the old Baronne is delightfully natural. Her make up is true to life and she acts the part to perfection. Mrs. de Journal as Adele is handicapped on account of her imperfect English which, however, is atoned for by her pleasant French accent. Miss Calvert is still Catherine and fills the part well. W. G. Plowright takes the part of Turlo. Taken altogether Edmonton has no reason to be ashamed of the company she is sending out. Their performance are sure to be well received, and the hospital should reap considerable financial benefit from their tour.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 10.—Jurez, across the river in Mexico, is alive with armed men. Last night the Mexican authorities learned from what is considered a reliable source that the same parties who attempted to capture the Mexican custom house at Nogales last month, would make an assault on the Jurez custom house. At a late hour a company of Mexican infantry were under arms in the customs house and troops of cavalry patrolled the town.
